Abstract: The article is about national education, its importance and important aspects of child education. Alisher Navoi's views on the perfect person are briefly presented. Thoughts were given on the process of national education, which is carried out under the guidance of an educator in special educational institutions.

Keywords: National education, heritage of the ancestors, behavior, oriental manners, value, culture, enlightenment.

Our people have always been rich in moral qualities. As soon as our ancestors grew a child, they attached great importance to their behavior, speech, and what they thought about. They have always tried their children not to intervene in adult interview, and not to allow the wrongdoing. These things were considered the most important aspect of raising children.

It is clear from the history that oriental politicization has been computed and improved for thousands of years. For example, the content of the Qur'an, the hadiths of the Qur'an, the hadiths of the Prophet, the books of the hadiths of the Prophet, and the books of the verses of the Prophet, served as an important source of upbringing. Islamic education envisages the Muslims all aspects of the life, and even smaller aspects.

In the hadiths of the Prophet (s.a.v.), he said : improve our children's morality with good qualities." It is no coincidence that in another hadith: „ the best of what is given to the believer is a beautiful conduct. Our ancestors always struggled to raise the identity of the man and to be educated by their children, neighborhoods and society. In educating young people, my child did not disassociate,, which you will be „Mening bolam”, „Sening bolang". Education is seen as the duty of everyone.

Since humanity came to the world that he always looks perfect, and he seeks perfection and seeks the path of spiritual salvation. This is the result of the the desire, and in the spiritual chapter of spirituality, it is made invisible discoveries.

The doctrine of a perfect person involves the high maturity of man. The perfection is to water all the works of humans with spiritual faith. The Uzbek people paid great attention to raising children in their culture and spirituality. As a result, for centuries, people like az-Zamakhshariy, Abu Rayhan Beruni, Al-Farabi, Amir Temur, Mirzo Ulugbek, Alisher Navoi, Babur, Ogahi , brought up and became known to the universe. Because of them, our people lived proud, always strived towards Independence and Freedom. Man is the largest in all beings in the universe. In the face of his maturity, the mind is surprised because man always thinks about the truth. To reach the path of perfection, he gradually seeks itself. Alisher Navoi "kamol et kasb kim" has given many features that need to be perfection when they called. If a person is cleansing himself from inclinations like Hushes-taste, lust, ignorance, ignorance, cannot be completely perfect. Living in "Olam uyi" is to become his citizen. Alisher wanted Navoi to rise to the position of the world's child. He considered the same position as the highest pinnacle of perfection.

Navoi considered perfect people as "Ahli ma'ni" in his time. The people who were known as "Ahli ma'ni" are "these remarkable people. The depth of mental in the mind of an unconscious crowd will not be the depth of orphanages. Thinking is to understand the truth. When you say, the people of Ahli ma'ni should understand the wisely and wise, humble, and noble, and noble, hardship, and selflessly. The thinking of people with such qualities will be wide.

Because they will be perfected not from ordinary words and understanding, but of justice, honesty, faith, love, afflicted gifts. Man strives for perfection - perfection with good qualities, good qualities like light. The talent of life is the talent of life, sampling, and creating and creation.

The blessings of the mind to the man that are great in the world can bring up itself in any way, and the man will overcome and solve the most complex problems with the blessings of understanding. Mental perfection creates a loud vine of goodness in the heart of the human heart.

The perfection of intelligence which is performed by reading, studying, analyzing, managing, comes with life experience. It is necessary to pay attention how to raise his child, to grow up as a perfect person of a person, as it depends on a rich tree of the young seedling.

It is known that to grow the child with a platform, it is necessary to create labor and work of business skills. Having hard work - are the qualities as sitting constant and working. However, although the factors that affect human maturity are the leader of the national education process carried out in special educational institutions, under the guidance of a townner. Because, firstly, the qualities that do not influence the environment under the influence of discipline will be.

Secondly, the upbringing can be perfected by changing congenital imperfections. For example, the blind, the dungs are also trained and, along with healthy people, is prepared for life.

Thirdly, through the help of upbringing, the negative effects of the environment can be lost or eliminated.

Fourthly, the upbringing always determines the goal focused on the future. Because of this, it plays an important role in accelerating the development of a person. The importance of school is very important in human development, a harmonious man. As children stepping up to school, they are busy labor. The children are formed in the school, along with the basics of science, gradually scientifically. The student takes the high qualities that are typical of both educators. Every time in the organization of educational work and provides a child to the family. The educator must be aware of the marital situation of its owning and must help families in need of assistance.

In general, pedagogically organized any personally organized activities affect the mental, moral, aesthetic, physical and will-in-law of any person. An unresolved activity may have a deficit or negative activity.

Development will not be outside the activities of the individual. Therefore, human activity is the basis for its development. Any activity of pedagogically organized also affects the development of the individual game, labor, study, sports and others. As the person is growing, his activities will change both content and mentally, and during different years, the types of activities are also explored.

In the development of the person, it is the role and role of physical education, environmental education, physical education, physical education, physical education in the development of the person, is an invaluable.

Because, if these methods of learning are done together, the young adults of Uzbekistan can be healthy and can engage in sport. If we are healthy, our children will be healthy.

Therefore, We, as pedagogues, must study diligently to be perfect, knowledgeable and qualified in every way. We must have qualification and knowledge related to new pedagogical technologies and their use. In this way, it will be important to choose pedagogical technologies which fits our theme and follow the principle of going from simple to complex. As we, the youth, are the creators of tomorrow, we are engaged in responsible work of raising and teaching future generation, we must increase our knowledge and utilize given opportunities effectively.
